Our Story

In late 2006, Christina Willows founded Olive Bath and Body. Her vision was to create a simple soap that was free of synthetic ingredients or additives.

For Christmas that year, Christina's family exchanged handmade gifts. She decided it was best to create something functional rather than decorative, but still beautiful. Using an old pan as her mould, her first batch was born.

Before Christmas even arrived, friends began asking her to make more soap they could gift to their own families. Soon after, with the help of her Father, Rick, they built custom moulds and production began.

No Synthetics

From the start, each batch of soap is carefully handcrafted to be consistent in chemistry yet unique to the eye.

Olive only uses natural scents. By avoiding the use of synthetic fragrances and colors we've developed one of the most accessible bars on the market. We strive to create the purest, safest bar possible. We do not view synthetics as progress, but rather an 'easy way out' that creates artificial, even superficial, results.

When you smell a Rustic Mint bar you're taking in actual mint. Real essential oils also have natural benefits. Mint has been used for centuries as a 'pick me up', just as Lavender has been used to calm and soothe.

High Tea presents the rich aroma of Earl Grey. You'll embrace notes of spruce and bergamot which result in a fresh, relaxing scent.

Benefits like these are not found with chemical compounds that can at best only emulate the most basic characteristics of nature.

The essential oils are chosen not only for their scent but also for their natural benefits. Further to this approach, Olive leaves in the naturally occurring glycerine to allow the smoothest, richest bar possible.

Packaging

Our soaps come in a recycled cardboard box with a 'leaf' dye-cut on the backside. We have a full color label that includes ingredients and contact information. We also have labels with barcodes available for larger retailers.

Unlike other soap companies we offer co-packaging for larger accounts. We will apply custom labels that feature a smaller '...by Olive' logo either on the front or side.

Also, we can create custom scents for your brand so long as it aligns with our 'all natural, handmade' mission.

We value transparency and honesty with our clients. If you have any requests beyond those listed here, please do not hesitate to inquire.
